Subject: Item for Adjustment in Appropriation Manchester Head Start FY 14-15

Date: November 20, 2014

Background: The Manchester Board of Education receives an annual grant from the Federal Government in order to provide operating funds for the Manchester Head Start program. This award is for the period 3/1/14-2/28/15. We just received a new award letter giving the balance of funds for restored operations and a cost-of-living adjustment. $60,821 was for restored operations and $15,003 was provided for the cost-of-living.

Discussion/Analysis: These funds are used to prepare three and four-year-old students for kindergarten.

Financial Impact: Grant funds cover 80% of the cost of implementation for this program, with the remaining 20% coming from the Manchester Board of Education, in the form of real dollars and in-kind services.

Other Board/Commission Action: None

Recommendation: The Superintendent recommends that the Board of Education request the Board of Directors adjust the Manchester Head Start appropriation for fiscal year 2014-2015 in the amount of $75,824 bringing the total appropriation to $1,169,102.

Attachments: None.

Mission of the Manchester Public Schools

Manchester Public Schools will engage all students in the highest quality 21st century education preschool through graduation. Through an active partnership with students, school personnel, families and community, the Manchester Public Schools will create safe, inclusive schools where equity is the norm and excellence is the goal. All students will be prepared to be lifelong learners and contributing members of society.
coherence
kōˈhi(ə)rəns/noun
1. the quality of being logical and consistent.
2. the quality of forming a unified whole.
systemness
Our Challenge

• Create district-wide coherence among 15 schools having different cultures, values, processes, and operational procedures

• Promote collaboration and “systemness” while allowing for creativity

• Make significant, measurable progress in our first year of work

• Increase student achievement
If we collaborate to ... then classroom instruction will improve, tiered interventions will be focused on targeted areas, student achievement will increase, and all students will be prepared for learning and work beyond high school.
Manchester Public Schools

Theory of Change

If we collaborate to...

Engage students through student-centered learning strategies

Parents

Teachers

Develop, implement, and support rigorous relevant curriculum across the district through the PLC model

Administrators

Families

Monitor and support implementation of new curriculum with fidelity

Core instructional strategies:
- effective discourse, rigor, questioning, and feedback; looking at student work; workshop model
- Strategies support anytime anywhere, mastery-based, personalized, and student-owned learning
- Carolyn Coil to support Differentiated Instruction
- Additional technology supports student engagement
- Recommended Math Time: 60 minutes* per day (Nikki Newton to support Guided Math)
- Recommended Literacy block: Lit Life coming to assist with integrating Reading and Writing
- Recommended K Play time: 60 minutes* per day

* All times approximate

PLCs at the school level will reflect using the unit reflection questions

Curriculum connector Diary Map will allow for reflection and revision across the district

First Unit Reflection: October 22

Curriculum teams will develop parent manuals as we move toward a standards-based report card

Curriculum Academies to meet in spring and summer to review and revise curriculum

Reflect and revise curriculum as needed

then classroom instruction will improve, tiered interventions will be focused on targeted areas, student achievement will increase, and all students will be prepared for learning and work beyond high school.

Teachers, set SIPs and IAGPs that are aligned to what they are teaching and connected to the SIP—standardized measures are not required this year but the district would like goals in the areas of literacy and numeracy

Coaches assist teachers with implementation of curriculum through integration of core strategies

David Cormier supports the work of instructional coaches

District learning walk teams (to be formed) that include administrators and teachers support implementation
Professional Learning Communities

Educators who are building a professional learning community recognize that they must work together to achieve their collective purpose of learning for all. Therefore, they create structures to promote a collaborative culture.
Professional Learning Communities

The powerful collaboration that characterizes professional learning communities is a systematic process in which educators work together to analyze and improve their classroom practice. Educators work in teams, engaging in an ongoing cycle of questions that promote deep team learning. This process, in turn, leads to higher levels of student achievement.

Professional Learning Communities at Work, Dufour
“PLCs operate under the assumption that the key to improved learning for students is continuous, job-embedded learning for educators”

DuFour, DuFour, Eaker, and Many (2006)
The Goal

We accept learning as the fundamental purpose of our school and therefore are willing to examine all practices in light of their impact on learning.

We are committed to working together to achieve our collective purpose. We cultivate a collaborative culture through the development of high-performing teams.

We assess our effectiveness on the basis of results rather than intentions. Individuals, teams, and schools seek relevant data and use that information to promote continuous improvement.

DuFour, DuFour, Eaker, and Many (2006)
Characteristics of a PLC

- Shared Mission: Purpose, Values, Goals
- Learning-focused Collaboration
- Collective Inquiry into Best Practice
- Commitment to Continuous Improvement
- Action Research: Learning By Doing
- Results Orientation

Professional Learning Communities at Work, Dufour
Key Questions

What do we want students to know, understand and be able to do?

How will we know when students know it?

How will we teach the key information, skills and concepts from each unit?

What will we do when students don’t know it?

What will we do when students do know it?

Professional Learning Communities at Work, Dufour
Membership
Membership/Configurations

• Elementary - grade level teachers plus support specialists, including coaches, reading specialists, special education teachers, pupil services staff, ELL teachers, library-media specialists, and tutors as needed; building and district administrators will also attend PLC meetings when possible
• Secondary - common course/subject teachers plus support specialists, including coaches, special education teachers, pupil services staff, ELL teachers, library-media specialists, and tutors as needed; building and district administrators will also attend PLC meetings when possible
• Specials/Elective/ Adult Education Teachers - could be a virtual team in cases where in person meetings are not possible
• Note: The ultimate goal is for the PLC to be a teacher-led endeavor although support from various specialists will be needed as we begin the process.
Instructional Coaches
What do instructional coaches do?

• Support the implementation of curriculum
• Seek out and experiment with best instructional practices
• Coach teachers across the school as determined by both teacher self-selection and school administration. Note: Coaches can begin with those who want assistance and add others throughout the year so that by the end of the year all have been supported by coaches

  Nikki Newton

• Attend Professional Learning Communities as needed to support integration of core instructional strategies
• Support the implementation of math and/or writer’s workshop model
• Deliver Understanding by Design workshops with teachers who still need training and/or lead review of curriculum to ensure alignment between all three stages of UbD
• Lead colleagues in review of student work and use of student assessment data as part of planning
• Attend School Improvement Team meetings (when formed) and district coaches meetings
• Support and monitor work in the area of equity to close the achievement gap at the school level
How do instructional coaches do it?

Coaching Teachers

a. Meet with one teacher once a week for one or two class periods to observe and conference later in the day. Check in with teachers for 3-4 weeks (or more) to note areas of instructional strength and need. Address these needs through a reflective process. Assist teachers in the areas of classroom management, planning, instruction, and assessment.

b. Model instructional strategies for teachers in teachers’ classrooms. Watch teacher implement the strategy and provide constructive feedback.

PLC Support

a. Deliver embedded Professional Development to PLCs that require ideas for instructional practice to support student growth

b. Attend PLC meetings as needed to ensure functionality (student work reviews, identifying instructional strategies and best practices, differentiation, revising curriculum when needed, completing the Curriculum Connector diary map to reflect and record pacing and notes).

c. Model student work reviews in PLCs to support teachers to calibrate grading and identify instructional strategies to address areas of need evident in student work.
Structure

• Norms are developed
• Agenda created in google drive and finalized at least 24 hours prior to the meeting
• Minutes taken in google drive so that all members listed above have access
• Scheduled time is the equivalent of 2 PLC meetings every 6 days; changes to the schedule should be discussed (could be through email) with all members prior to finalizing the change
• Recorder assigned each session with other roles assigned as needed by the PLC (e.g. facilitator)
Making the Groups Work
Norms

The next step is to establish some ground rules/norms for your team PLC.

These ground rules generally:

- Govern individual behavior and encourage respectful discourse
- Facilitate the work of the group,
- Help maintain a focus on student learning and adult practice
- Enable the group to accomplish its task

- Examples might include:
  - Stay focused on the objective
  - Be respectful of other’s time
  - Make this a safe place for people to share
Sample

• Focus on the future
• Everyone must participate
• Be concise
• Stay engaged in the work
• Limit side-bar conversations / Texting
• Let the speaker finish speaking
• Keep to time limits
• Focus on things we can control
• Concerns should come with solutions
Process

• Discussion follows the agenda which is focused on learning (focused, time-limited and supported by evidence/data)
• Group stays focused on the agenda
• Decisions made by the group are supported by all members
• At the end of each meeting, next steps are clearly identified as part of a draft agenda for the next meeting
PLC Cycle

Focus - What do we want students to know, understand and be able to do?

- PLC uses curriculum, pre-assessment data and/or information from previous unit or prior unit reflection to identify student achievement issue.
- The student achievement issue is stated as a measureable goal which may be measured over several weeks. The standard measured in the goal should be the same for the group and there should also be an adult goal.
- Example:
  - Students will be able to solve quadratic equations using multiple methods including graphing, factoring, completing the square, and applying the quadratic formula as demonstrated by scores on teacher generated CFA, review of student work, etc.
  - Teachers will implement the Desmos Chromebook app to support students in the use of graphing to find solutions (Note: Teachers in the same PLC can have different goals).
PLC Cycle

Strategies - How will we teach it?
- Develop action/instructional plan to reach SMART goal

Assessment - How will we know if students know it?
- Begin unit planning process with the end of unit assessment or performance task in mind
- Use formative data (adult practice and student achievement) to adjust the strategies detailed in the instructional plan (progress monitor)
- PLC uses post-assessment to determine response, i.e., next steps
PLC Cycle

Response - What are we going to do about it? (What will we do if students don’t know it? What will we do if students do?)
- Remediate (How will we help students who did not achieve the goal?)
- Differentiate (How will we enrich the students who achieved the goal?)
- Are there any specific tools that must be provided to assist in ensuring success for all learners?

Curriculum Connector
- Share PLC outcomes: Attach unit reflection to Curriculum Connector using the following naming convention: Reflection ELA or Math Unit X School Name (Reflection Math Unit 1 Martin)
Six Fears Associated with Change
Fear

Wasting time and energy
Leaders might not follow through on new agendas, or the ideas embedded in those agendas might not be worth pursuing.

Losing autonomy
New agendas might require activities, materials, or methods that differ from what the teacher prefers or is accustomed to.

Experiencing failure when trying new things
The new agendas might require learning new skills or behaviors that seem difficult to master.
Fear

Fear of becoming socially isolated
Cooperating with new agendas might require behaviors that valued colleagues would object to.

Fear of unpleasant surprises
New agendas might increase uncertainty for people who like stability and predictability

Fear of more work
Complying with new agendas might require more work than people feel inclined to undertake.
All six fears are familiar to anyone experienced with change efforts, especially in schools.
