D. STUDENT REPRESENTATIVE REPORT
Patrick Doherty and Krista Myrie gave an update on the start of the school year at MHS:

Freshman 1st Day was September 4th and the Link Leader Crew is a high school transition program that welcomes freshmen and makes them feel comfortable throughout the first year of their high school experience.

September 4th also was 183 Nights for the class of 2019...it marked the first day of their final year in high school.

The Involvement Fair was successful this year for the clubs at MHS. Everyone is excited for all the opportunities the students were presented with.

Flex started this week at MHS with signing up for classes. Last week, Friday was the day students got to meet their Mentors and settle into the class.

September 7th was the opening of Varsity Football, though MHS lost to Enfield 53-47.

MHS students all have chromebooks and teachers are actively using Google classroom.

This week Senior Friends pictures will be taken for the yearbook.

The MHS UCONN Maritime Club participated in a cardboard boat race on September 18 and MHS placed 2nd. Mr. Scappaticci offered his congratulations and asked for more details. Mr. Maloney teaches this club and the race is at Avery Point. Two people get into the cardboard and duct tape contraption. This was the first year our boat did not sink.

Open House was last week and parents were able to get acclimated to their student’s schedule.
Mr. Scappaticci asked Krista about her participation in Debate Club. Krista noted that this is the first year the club will be actively participating, as last year was more of a planning year.

E. PUBLIC COMMENTS

Mr. Tom Stringfellow, 183 Hillstown Road, noted that back in February he was disturbed by comments made by some parents regarding student’s sexual orientation. He recommended a book and TV show on transgender issues and noted that no matter their sexual identity, everyone is a human being. Mr. Stringfellow pointed out Columbus Day is next month, though some refer to it as Indigenous People’s Day. He suggested books and articles on other explorers besides Columbus. Mr. Stringfellow also mentioned the Mexican American War and an article in the History of War magazine along with books regarding college available at Barnes & Noble.

F. SUPERINTENDENT’S REPORT – PART I

F.1. Update on Technology

Mr. Geary introduced Kerry Kearney, Instructional Technology Supervisor. Ms. Kearney’s presentation is available on the website. She reviewed the number and different types of technology in the district, along with the staff that oversees the department.

Ms. Maio appreciated the work of the department. As a parent, she pointed out her 8th grader was excited to participate in GearHeads and Robotics and her children were excited to hear about Esports at MHS.

Mr. Pattacini asked what the difference was between Library Media Specialists and Technology Integration Specialists. Ms. Kearney pointed out each school has one Library Media Specialist, but grades 5-12 also have Technology Integration Specialists that are able to train teachers and students on the use of different forms of technology. Mr. Geary pointed out that the Technology Integration Specialists are funded through the Alliance Grant.

Ms. Stefanovicz thinks the department does a fantastic job maintaining 7500 users with only 10 staff members. She wondered, with the budget pressures over the last few years, how are we doing on the lifespan of routers and other needed items. Ms. Kearney noted they have been lucky to find grant funding for some network equipment and erate funding for switches, security, and servers. She pointed out we always need more and we are always stretching what resources we do have. Ms. Kearney pointed out the deferred payment plan that Town was able to implement to replace the needed switches a couple years ago, that her department is still paying off. Projectors, laptops, and other items are needed, but funding is limited. Mr. Geary pointed out that items like classroom laptops and desktop computers for teachers are not able to be paid for with grant funding.

F.2. Professional Development Highlights

Mr. Geary reviewed the district underwent three days of professional development before school started this year. Dr. Radikas presented details on the PD sessions, that were planned back in February by a committee. PD was planned to impact student achievement, support consistent programming, build capacity and improve morale.

Mr. Thames was interested in the Implicit Bias PD and wondered if every staff member was required to participate, including HR, admin, custodial, and cafeteria workers. Dr. Radikas noted the PD was offered to paras, tutors, teachers, and administrators as an option. She pointed out secretaries have a similar PD at some point during the year. Other staff, such as custodial and cafeteria/kitchen staff do not participate. Mr. Thames was troubled that the staff that probably need this PD most are not receiving it. Dr. Radikas pointed out that some schools will host Rhonda Philbert, who facilitates the PD, at their school during a school-based PD later in the year, so those staff members were blocked from taking the PD in August so as not to take it twice.

Mr. Thames noted it is increasingly important, with all the movement in the district with schools closing and students being redistricted, that staff be attuned to the fact that they will be interacting with new students they have not previously built relationships with and they should ease the transition between students, staff, and parents. Dr. Radikas also pointed out that she is eager to see the results from the parents who responded to the ISCA survey recently.
Mr. Thames spoke about the assessment scores that teachers are presented with for their incoming students (who are noted to be meeting, approaching, or exceeding standards). He notes some districts focus their resources on the “golden band” of those approaching goal standards. He wondered what our priority is. Dr. Radikas noted that students are taught in small groups based on their needs, not just their scores on an assessment. Those groups are flexible, so they change throughout the year as topics and student needs change.

Mr. Thames feels it is critically important that teachers learn from other teachers and share strategies. He notes different students learn differently. Dr. Radikas invited Board members to visit an elementary school triad on a half day PD to witness first hand how the meetings are run.

Mr. Pattacini is amazed by the work we are able to do. He wondered if this was the first year we were able to provide scores for incoming students to their new teachers. Dr. Radikas noted that this year the information was presented in a more user-friendly, one-page fashion. Mr. Pattacini thinks it is great to see that we continue to be innovative in our approach to PD.

G. UNFINISHED BUSINESS
Mr. Pattacini asked if there were any questions from Board members regarding the proposed new and revised policies presented at the last meeting. There were none. Mr. Geary noted that there were no emailed questions either, and he reiterated that the changes made were done in order to align our policies with the Shipman & Goodwin recommended policies. There were no substantial revisions made and Mr. Pattacini noted most changes reflect current practice.

7/0 - Voted in favor.

H. NEW BUSINESS

None.

I. PUBLIC COMMENTS (Limited to items on tonight’s agenda)

Mr. Tom Stringfellow, 183 Hillstown Road, though Mrs. Kearney’s presentation was good, but he wonders how we are doing with the digital divide regarding economically disadvantaged students who may not have a computer at home. Mr. Stringfellow also spoke about internet safety and noted there is a presentation on Sex, Lies & Media at the community college tomorrow. He pointed out an article in USA Today about technology and back to school. Mr. Stringfellow enjoyed Dr. Radikas’ presentation and suggested several articles on racism and hate groups.
